

Basic Principles for Christian Living

2 Corinthians 12:1-10

The Christian life is not self-centered but Christ-centered. “For to me to live is Christ” (Phil. 1:21). It’s all about Him. God’s glory is all that counts (1 Cor. 10:31). God’s will must be done and sin must be avoided at any cost (Matt. 26:39; Rom. 12:9). I do not tell God how things should be, but I submit to His terms as set forth in His Word (Rom. 6:11-13).

My aim is to please God always, please and serve others and not to please myself (Rom. 15:1-3). I will go in the strength of the Lord GOD (Psalms 71:16) and in the power of the Spirit (Zech. 4:6). I have no might and no wisdom to live the Christian life, but my eyes are upon the LORD (2 Chron. 20:12).

When I fail, then I am the one to blame. I must never blame others, or circumstances or the devil. My sufficiency is not of myself, but of God (2 Cor. 3:5), and His grace is sufficient for every situation (2 Cor. 12:9; 9:8). I must not leave God out of anything because Ecclesiastes teaches me that apart from a right relationship with God, I will be miserable, and life will be meaningless.

I must not focus on people because they will often disappoint and let me down (Jer. 17:5), but my faithful God will never disappoint nor fail me (Deut. 31:6,8). I want to put the beauty of the LORD on display (Psalms 90:17), not the ugliness of self (Gal. 5:19-21). I walk by faith, not by sight, taking God at His Word and counting on Him to do what He promised (2 Cor. 5:17).

I want to avoid the barrenness of a busy life lived in the energy of the flesh (Gal. 5:16).

May my service flow out of a right and wonderful relationship with the Lord!

~George Zeller: www.middletonbiblechurch.org

Basic Principles for Christian Living

2 Corinthians 12:1-10

The Christian life is not self-centered but Christ-centered. “For to me to live is Christ” (Phil. 1:21). It’s all about Him. God’s glory is all that counts (1 Cor. 10:31). God’s will must be done and sin must be avoided at any cost (Matt. 26:39; Rom. 12:9). I do not tell God how things should be, but I submit to His terms as set forth in His Word (Rom. 6:11-13).

My aim is to please God always, please and serve others and not to please myself (Rom. 15:1-3). I will go in the strength of the Lord GOD (Psalms 71:16) and in the power of the Spirit (Zech. 4:6). I have no might and no wisdom to live the Christian life, but my eyes are upon the LORD (2 Chron. 20:12).

When I fail, then I am the one to blame. I must never blame others, or circumstances or the devil. My sufficiency is not of myself, but of God (2 Cor. 3:5), and His grace is sufficient for every situation (2 Cor. 12:9; 9:8). I must not leave God out of anything because Ecclesiastes teaches me that apart from a right relationship with God, I will be miserable, and life will be meaningless.

I must not focus on people because they will often disappoint and let me down (Jer. 17:5), but my faithful God will never disappoint nor fail me (Deut. 31:6,8). I want to put the beauty of the LORD on display (Psalms 90:17), not the ugliness of self (Gal. 5:19-21). I walk by faith, not by sight, taking God at His Word and counting on Him to do what He promised (2 Cor. 5:17).

I want to avoid the barrenness of a busy life lived in the energy of the flesh (Gal. 5:16).

May my service flow out of a right and wonderful relationship with the Lord!

~George Zeller: www.middletonbiblechurch.org